

How the CIC Online Course Sharing Consortium Helps:

Improve Student Job-Readiness

Integrate micro-credentials and certificates

Students are seeking affordable, high-quality, career-aligned credentials that open up degree pathways while minimizing financial and administrative friction. As a CIC member, you receive access to exclusive discounts on Coursera professional certifications and licenses from leaders like Google, IBM, Facebook, and more.

Institutions everywhere are powering new initiatives that enable students to acquire in-demand skills as well as apply credit toward associates and bachelors degrees.

"Micro-credentialing will gain even more traction in 2021. Students need faster, affordable, and flexible higher-ed options they can turn around and immediately use in the workplace as alternatives to traditional 4-year degree programs."
