

How the CIC Online Course Sharing Consortium Helps:

Students Recover Academic Standing

Get students back on track with flexible course options

Institutions have a clear interest in helping students find ways to overcome a bad grade that puts a minimum GPA requirement at risk or even threatens their academic standing. Course sharing offers an opportunity to place a student in an equivalent course at a member institution without delay, allowing them to quickly recover and stay on track.

Help students regain good academic standing by replacing low grades to meet minimum GPA requirements and avoid probation.

Since 2018, Eureka College has leveraged online courses to help students regain good academic standing and avoid probation/dismissal, saving 38 out of 41 students and adding $700,000 in revenue.
